

Meet Dr. Nancy Carriuolo

A graduate of the State College of New York at Brockport (bachelor's and master's degrees) and the State University of New York at Buffalo (doctorate), as well as a participant in the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, Dr. Carriuolo was named the ninth president of Rhode Island College (RIC) in 2008. She has wide-ranging experience in higher education at the Rhode Island Office of Higher Education (RIOHE), the Office of School/College Relations at the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC), the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of New Haven, and the junior- and senior-high school level. She is also a member of other Rhode Island boards: CrossroadsRI, the Providence Foundation, the Vets Foundation and the Tech Collective, as well as four education-related organizations, including the NEASC. Dr. Carriuolo is the author of more than 30 publications with regional, national or international audiences.